Good afternoon, dear Amit!

I hope you're doing well!

Please note that we have not yet received cargo readiness information. However, the shipper has already informed us that due to Maersk's current situation, the cnee has questioned whether we will keep the same carrier.

Note that Maersk only has space for one October vessel. Therefore, I will also share Hapag's freight. Could you indicate which shipping company we should use?

Good afternoon, dear Amit!

How are you?

What great news, we are very happy with the new bookings 🥳🥳🥳🥳

We are reaching out to the shipper to check the readiness of the cargo.

In addition, we are checking with the carriers regarding rates and space availability. As you may have seen in the emails, Maersk has been transferring a large number of bookings (several times) in Rio Grande. This is due to a significant backlog of cargos, and for this reason, vessels are currently not open for new bookings.

Therefore, we will check with Maersk if there is any forecast for the situation to normalize, as well as obtain quotations with the other lines. We will send you updates as soon as possible.
